CALL FOR APPLICATIONS

Research Ethics Certificate Course (RECC)

VENUE: KEMRI, Nairobi, Kenya.
DATES: July 2nd – 7th 2018

This is a call for applications of interest for a certificate training course in Research Ethics to be conducted at KEMRI, Nairobi. The course is scheduled for July 2nd - 7th 2018.

APPLICATION DOCUMENTS REQUIRED INCLUDE

The training will involve presentations and discussions led by both local and international faculty. If you are interested in joining this course, you are requested to send us the following documents:

- An updated CV,
- A one page Letter of Intent, describing why you are interested in the course, and what practical benefit might emerge to you and to your institution as a result of avail-ing this opportunity.
- Two letters of reference with one from a line supervisor and this should indicate that the institution will facilitate the time needed for training.

Please note that preference will be given to candidates actively involved in bioeth-ics and those for whom the training will have particular relevance because of their research activities and participation in Institutional Review Committees (IRECs).

All applications will be reviewed by a Selection Panel whose decisions, based on the strength of the applications, shall be final.
Partial scholarships are available to support those selected for training.
No fees are charged for training.
Please send your application package to cbeckemri.bti@rctp.or.ke or cbeckemri.bti@gmail.com as early as possible, and before the 30th March 2018.
